

Mar. 10, 1976

Dear Jim & Vickie,

The pretty embroidered coin purse arrived this last weekend, and I really like it. It is perfect for my evening bag, and looks really special.

It is just pouring today, and so Diane and I are staying in. Mom was over this morning and played with Diane who really cried when she left. Mom says complete attention to Diane when she plays with her, and Diane loves it.

We went over to Jennie's Friday night to a dinner bought and prepared by a man and wife who were selling pots and pans. All the cousins were there except for Gail & Jim. It was a little embarrassing because none of us ended up buying the pans. They cost around $300 a set, and you couldn't buy any individually. Jennie said she wanted them, but Art told the man no.

Diane is writing on her blackboard and keeps asking me to draw a baby, which she then erases and asks again. Bye for now.

P.S. Thanks again Love, Mary